HOW MATURE IS YOUR HYBRID CLOUD? THE TIME FOR DATA TRANSFORMATION AND INVESTMENT IS NOW!

Across every market technology decision makers struggle with investments in new technologies including automation and orchestration and when to make a jump to public cloud technologies. The reality is the vast majority of enterprises run a hybrid cloud infrastructure and will continue to do so into the foreseeable future.

Hybrid Cloud Modernization

ConvergeOne's free WAVES engagements bring to light what's being done right and what needs attention while providing recommendations on where to prioritize precious investments to leverage forward thinking technologies to drive security and scalability.

"By 2026, 65% of tech buyers will prioritize as-a-service consumption models for infrastructure purchases to help restrain IT spending growth and fill ITOps talent gaps and by 2027, AI-enabled automation will ensure consistent digital infrastructure configuration, performance, cost, and security by reducing the need for human operations intervention by 70% and improving SLDs."

IDC Mary Johnston Turner
Research Vice President, Future of Digital Infrastructure
